

CO-ORDINATE MEASURING

CO-ORDINATE MEASURING SYSTEMS

The increasing importance in business of Total Quality Management and introduction of recognised International Standards has meant that more of our customers require guidance to enable them to meet the demands of their customers. Because of our extensive product knowledge we are able to offer machines and software built to meet specific customer requirements. This provides an economic solution to any measuring problems. Crown Windley are one of the world leaders in measurement technology and welcomes all enquiries related to the field of metrology. Our expertise is on hand to help you solve your inspection and measurement problems by the most effective route, at the most competitive cost. Throughout the U.K. and in most industrialised nations we provide a service tailored to the needs of the customer.

